

EAGLE MOUNTAIN UPDATE

FROM THE MAYOR'S DESK

Happy Spring! It is nice to see the sunshine, even though it has been intermittent.

The City has been working on many projects and I'd like to give you an overview of how things are progressing. Our new 138Kv power line was scheduled to be completed by May 31, 2008. I'm pleased to announce that it was completed as of three week ago. We also hope to see ground breaking for our new sewer treatment plant and the addition to The Ranches fire station within the next month.

This leads me to the budget. We are currently working on putting our budget in place for the next fiscal year. Our practice is to underestimate our revenues and overestimate our expenditures. This action keeps the city in a sound financial position. I have received questions about how we can afford to put in a skate park and a bike park or finish Porter's Crossing, or other city improvements. I want you to know that we have set money aside in our capital improvements budget for these items. This does not cause us to skimp on any services. We have been fiscally responsible and will continue to be so.

Something that will help our financial resources to grow is that our economic development efforts are paying off. We have had a lot of commercial interest in the city over the past few months. I am excited to confirm that a deal has been finalized with Associated Food Stores to bring a grocery store within our city limits (see story on page 2). Also, this month I will miss a city council meeting because I will be in Las Vegas attending the ICSC conference. This conference is the largest retail conference in the world. Ifo Pili, our economic development director, will be attending the conference with me.

Another exciting event this month is the start of Pony Express Days (see schedule on page 4)! We will also be sending a brochure that you will receive in the mail. We have added a few new events this year including a 3 on 3 basketball tournament and a softball tournament. Please sign up for these new events. We appreciate your participation.

The week prior to Pony Express Days will be the city's annual Military Appreciation Week (May 26-May 30 – see info on page 5). We had a welcome home procession last month for the members of the 116th Security Force returning home from Iraq. We are grateful to have so many members of the military in our city. Last month I was also able to attend the Purple Heart ceremony for SFC Gordon Ewell. It was a wonderful event. The culminating event for our Military Appreciation Week and the opening event for Pony Express Days will be the key ceremony for the Home for a Hero project, awarded to the Ewell family (see info on page 7). Please come support this deserving family.

We have a survey regarding recycling posted on the city website. As of May 1 we had 341 people who responded with 67% willing to pay for a recycling program. This survey will run through June 9. Please give us your input. Based on your feedback we will be looking at how to implement this program. We are also preparing a survey to determine residents' preferences in a recreation center. Please look for more information on the city website and with your utility bills.

Finally, the Eagle Mountain Update will now be published bi-monthly. I encourage everyone to regularly check the city website (www.eaglemountaincity.com) for more timely information and announcements.

FIRST GROCERY STORE COMING TO EAGLE MOUNTAIN Associated Foods Store to Start Construction This Summer

A deal to bring the first large-scale grocery store to Eagle Mountain City has been finalized, Mayor Heather Jackson announced.

An Associated Foods store will begin construction in August of this year and is expected to be completed by May 2009. The store will be located on the north side of SR-73 at Ranches Parkway.

“Our citizens have been looking forward to the convenience of shopping in their own city for some time, so we are really excited to announce that it is happening,” Mayor Jackson said.

Steve Miner with Associated Food Stores has announced that the store will be the first of its kind - called Coop's Market, named after Phillip Cooper, president of CWC, Inc., a new independent grocery store operator in Utah. The 50,000 square foot store will have a bakery, deli, indoor pharmacy, drive-up pharmacy, and organic food.

Additional retail space will be built around the grocery store, with potential tenants to include financial services, restaurants, and other smaller businesses.

The Associated Foods store is one product of the city's increased economic development efforts. As the city with the third largest geographical area in the state, Eagle Mountain has been actively promoting its available land, reasonable prices, and population figures to interested parties within and outside of Utah.

“We've been working diligently to develop the means and circumstances to bring more economic development to the city,” City Administrator John Hendrickson said. “This is the first step in what we hope will be more commercial growth for the city.”

OUTDOOR WATERING GUIDE

Eagle Mountain City's Water Department reminds us to be conservative with our water use as we enter the warmer weather months. Following are some guidelines from the State of Utah, for your information:

North-Central Utah
March	No irrigation recommended
April	No irrigation recommended
May	21 min. every 4 days
June	21 min. every 3 days
July	21 min. every 3 days
August	21 min. every 3 days
September	21 min. every 6 days
October	No irrigation recommended
November	No irrigation recommended

What if the recommended times are not enough?

If this schedule does not seem to be enough water for your lawn, please check your system for inefficiencies and maintenance issues before increasing your run times. Watering the whole lawn to green-up just a few brown spots is an inefficient use of water.

How do I water plants other than grass?

If your lawn and decorative plants are watered by different sprinkler zones, you will be able to save even more water. Shrubs, flowers and other decorative plants require 25-50% less water than the lawn. If possible, water these zones a few minutes longer than the lawn but half as frequently.

For more information on water conservation please visit www.conservewater.utah.gov

Eagle Mountain City Ordinance No. 0-09-2005

ODD ADDRESSES WATER
Monday, Wednesday, Friday
EVEN ADDRESSES WATER
Tuesday, Thursday, Saturday
(No watering on Sundays)
Please check your sprinkler clocks for proper settings.
1st offense Written Warning
2nd offense termination of water service and $100 fine

Are You Prepared? Emergency Trivia Contest

What are some disaster risks that residents of Utah should be prepared for?

(See www.ready.gov)

- If you can correctly answer this emergency preparedness question, you may win a certificate for $20 off your utility bill.
- E-mail an answer with your name, address, and phone after 8:00 AM on May 14 and before 5:00 PM on May 15 to news@emcity.org.
- The first correct entry received wins!
- Congratulations to last month's winner Deborah Cox. The answer was: September is National Preparedness Month.
- Contest winners and family not eligible for one year.

Welcome Home!

Eagle Mountain City would like to welcome home the following soldiers from the 116th

Convoy Security Company and thank them for their service in Iraq:

Steven Barlow

Matthew Felt

Mike Jones

Blake Keele

David Santiago

Jacob Weber

We'd like to thank The Ranches HOA for donating the yellow ribbon for the welcome home procession last month and Lehi's American Legion Post 19 for loaning the flags.

Eagle Mountain City would like to welcome all our resident soldiers as they return home. Please contact Linda Peterson at 358-1175 with any homecoming information.

City Employee Spotlight

Spencer Bell is a natural gas crewman for the city who hails from Emery County and has made his home in Eagle Mountain for the past 18 months. He started working for the city nine months ago, after spending over four years with Questar gas.

Some of Spencer's duties include setting gas meters, fixing gas tear-outs, daily maintenance of gas lines, and responding to service calls.

The things Spencer likes most about his job are the people that he works with, the smaller work environment, and the fact that his work is close to home.

Asked why he chose to live in Eagle Mountain, Spencer said, "It's the closest thing to a small town my wife will let me live in." He says he likes the quiet surroundings of our city because that is what he is used to.

Married for four years to Brittany, the Bells have a 15 month old daughter.

In his off-work time, Spencer enjoys all sports, and likes to go camping and fishing.

Rusty Allen hangs in the saddle during the National Finals Rodeo in 2005.

LOCAL SADDLE BRONC RIDER MAKES IT BIG ON THE NATIONAL RODEO SCENE

Rusty Allen of Eagle Mountain can't remember a time when horses have not been a part of his life. Growing up in Lehi, where his parents were involved with rodeos, Allen sat on a horse before he could walk. Today he is a top competitor on the professional rodeo circuit as a saddle bronc rider.

For the last four years, Allen has competed in the National Finals Rodeo in Las Vegas, which he calls "our SuperBowl." The road to the NFR involves competing in a minimum of 70 competitions around the country over the course of the year. Only those ranked in the top 15 in the U.S. and Canada are selected to compete in the NFR.

Competing at this level requires extensive training. Allen says he stays in shape by lifting weights, jumping rope, biking, and, of course, riding horses. He also practices on a mechanical horse. Allen finds the effort to be very rewarding, though challenging.

"I like the challenge of it—to compete at that level," Allen said. "I ride against Billy Etbauer and Rod Hay. These are guys I grew up following."

One of the biggest challenges is balancing his family time with all of traveling he does. Allen says he gets a lot of support from his wife Fawn, who stays home during the school year with their daughters Ashley, 12, and Sienna, 18 months. The family does travel together during the summer and Allen says when he is home the family makes an effort to spend as much time together as possible.

The Allen family has lived in Eagle Mountain for over two years and Rusty says they were drawn here by the opportunity to own horse property where they can saddle up and ride right out of their backyard, as well as enjoy other outdoor activities such as biking, jogging, and riding ATVs. With Fawn and Ashley also competing in rodeos, having a place to keep their horses is important to the family.

The next steps on the rodeo trail for Allen include Oklahoma, California, and Canada. There will be many more as the year progresses, but he hopes that his final stop will be in Las Vegas in December for his fifth appearance at the NFR.

IN MEMORIAM

Eagle Mountain City is saddened to announce that our Special Events Coordinator, Lynn Story, passed away on Sunday, May 4.

We dedicate this year's Pony Express Days to Lynn, who had been working on preparations for this event.

We will miss her spirited personality. We send our deepest condolences to her family and friends.

MILITARY APPRECIATION WEEK (MAY 26-30)

Eagle Mountain City is collecting donations for care packages to be sent to local deployed military personnel. Donation boxes will be available May 27-May 30 at City Hall, Eagle Valley Elementary, Pony Express Elementary, and The Ranches Academy. A box will also be available at the Home for a Hero event on May 30. As there are specific regulations regarding what items can go into care packages, following are suggestions for items we will be able to accept:

- ◆ Packaged snack foods
- ◆ Entertaining books
- ◆ DVDs/CDs
- ◆ Powdered drink mixes
- ◆ Crossword or Sudoku type books
- ◆ Playing cards
- ◆ Letters
- ◆ Hygiene items (toothpaste, mouthwash, shaving crème, q-tips, wipes, hand sanitizer, lip balm, etc.)

COMMUNITY CLIPBOARD

Library Nook

Summer Reading Program — This year’s Summer Reading Program (“Catch the Reading Bug!”) registration began May 1. Cost is $2 per child due at registration. Registration forms and more information available at the library.

Senior Computer Classes — Computer training for seniors, ages 55 and older, will be offered Fridays, May 9 and 16 from 10 AM to Noon. Classes are free. Please contact the library at 789-6623 for more information.

The seniors enjoyed some sunshine and dished some dirt at their planter podding party on April 28.

FOR YOUR INFORMATION

Natural Gas Facts — Eagle Mountain City’s natural gas department would like the public to be aware of the following facts about natural gas:

- ◆ Natural Gas is odorless — a harmless odor that smells like rotten eggs is added so that people can easily detect leaks.
- ◆ Natural Gas is non-toxic.
- ◆ Natural Gas is colorless — When natural gas is ignited, it burns with a clean, blue flame. It is one of the cleanest burning fuels.
- ◆ Natural Gas is lighter than air — If natural gas escapes, it dissipates rapidly.
- ◆ Natural Gas contributes to a cleaner environment — As the cleanest burning fossil fuel available, it helps improve air and water quality by producing virtually no harmful pollutants when burned.
- ◆ Natural Gas has narrow combustion limits — It will only ignite when there is an air-and-gas mixture of between 5 and 15 percent natural gas.

For more information on natural gas, please visit the gas department’s page on the city website. The gas department’s emergency number is 789-5959.

Women’s Cancer Screening — The Women’s Cancer Screening Clinic offers education and screening for women ages 40-64 years old regarding their cancer risks. Call 801-851-7031, or visit www.UtahCountyHealth.org and click on “Family Health Services (Nursing) for more information.
