

FROM THE MAYOR'S DESK

IN THE WAKE OF HERRIMAN'S "MACHINE GUN FIRE", EAGLE MOUNTAIN CITY HAS BEEN REVIEWING AND UPDATING OUR EMERGENCY OPERATIONS PLAN AND CRISIS COMMUNICATION PROCEDURES.

We are in the process of incorporating more resources and new media that will help keep our citizens safe and informed.

The sheriff's department continues to organize our community safety program, which involves citizen volunteers in an effort to keep our crime rate low. This will provide another network for communication in the event of a natural disaster or other emergency.

Also, our fire department regularly holds Community Emergency Response Team (CERT) classes, which train citizens to be emergency responders in the event of a major disaster. These efforts require your awareness and participation to be effective.

One of the key things in the event of an emergency is for residents to receive accurate and timely information about what is happening, and what action, if any, needs to be taken. Herriman City did a great job with this, by using their Twitter account to provide frequent updates about the fire, evacuations, and school closures. I hope that we will get many more of our citizens to follow the city's Twitter at emcityorg.

Mayor Jackson reads to Mrs. Frampton's first grade class at Eagle Valley Elementary.

We have also established the Be Ready Eagle Mountain blog as a forum to provide residents with emergency preparedness information and notifications during an emergency (see pg. 3).

As a city we have a good relationship with our neighbor, Camp Williams. About a year ago, Eagle Mountain and the other cities that border Camp Williams, along with Utah and Salt Lake County officials, began working together on a joint land use study to resolve some of the issues that have come up as growth around Camp Williams continues. These concerns include fire danger and noise. I look forward to continuing to work with our regional partners on this study.

On another note, I hope to see you at some of our upcoming holiday events, including the Turkey Trot, Christmas Tree Lighting, and Santa on the Fire Truck. These activities have become great traditions in our community.

Winter Preparedness — With winter weather here, make sure you're prepared. Give yourself extra time as you travel and allow plenty of room between yourself and the vehicle in front of you. Have emergency plans in place. Many of us have experienced being cut off from our families and not being able to return home because of bad weather. Make sure you have food and water in your vehicles. Also, have alternate plans in place to care for all family members in the event you are unable to return home when expected.

Snow Plows — Remember that by city ordinance, to assist with snow removal, you cannot park vehicles or trailers on city streets between the hours of 4:00 AM and 4:00 PM whenever it snows two or more inches.

Safe Disposal of Medications — Do you have old prescription medications hanging around that you don't know what to do with? Flushing them is no longer the preferred way to dispose of medications. Bring them to the Public Safety building during city business hours or call 789-6701, we have a drop box here and they will be disposed of safely.

Community Safety Program — If you are interested in taking part in keeping your neighborhood safe, now is the time to get involved. The Sheriff's Office is working hard to get all of our city actively participating in our Community Safety Program. If you'd like more information, or you'd like to volunteer, call the Public Safety Office at 789-6712.

Aaron Staton, a BYU student, was the first "cupcake finisher" at the Making Cancer a Cake Walk 5K Run last month (being congratulated here by the Chick-fil-A cow).

Staton stopped on the route to eat three cupcakes, which enabled him to have three minutes taken off his time of just over 24 minutes. However, it still wasn't enough to beat the leader, EM resident Adam Brown, who finished first at 18 minutes, 10 seconds.

About $3,000 was raised for EM resident Jim Hughes, who is fighting brain cancer.

FOR YOUR INFORMATION

Transportation Survey — As Utah continues to experience unprecedented growth, challenges inevitably follow. To address some of the transportation challenges created by this growth, the Utah Department of Transportation (UDOT) developed TravelWise -- a set of strategies that encourage Utahns to use alternatives to driving alone. The state of Utah is asking individuals, businesses and organizations to implement TravelWise strategies in an effort to reduce energy consumption, reduce traffic congestion and improve air quality, ultimately improving the quality of life in Utah.

Brigham Young University is currently doing research for TravelWise Utah and would like to know what you think. Please take 10 minutes to complete the survey at <http://tiny.cc/6f5p3>. All responses are anonymous. As part of your participation you will automatically be entered to win an 8 GB Apple iPod Touch. The survey will remain live until Nov. 22, 2010. EM Family Gets Home Makeover

Shortly after Tyson Juber was born, his parents, Nathan and Brande, knew he would face some serious challenges. Between 40 and 60 seizures wracked his newborn body each day, along with constant spasms, and the medication doctors prescribed was not working. After many tests, it was discovered Tyson's left brain was large and abnormal. He underwent surgery to remove his left brain, leaving him with right-side weakness. Now 3 1/2 years old, he is working on learning to walk.

The Jubers sought help for Tyson's physical therapy from Now I Can, a non-profit organization in Provo. He has completed a three-week session there several times, at the cost of $6,000 per session. Recently, his parents hoped that Now I Can would be named the winner of a local contest sponsored by APX Alarm which would grant them $30,000 to provide scholarships for children like Tyson. The funding was given to another non-profit named Heart 2 Home, which organizes community projects to help Utah families in need.

Although disappointed that Now I Can did not receive the money, the Jubers soon learned that Heart 2 Home wanted to help by making over some rooms at the Now I Can facility in Provo. Heart 2 Home also chose some kids from Now I Can to receive bedroom makeovers—including Tyson.

Last month, volunteers from Heart 2 Home came to the Juber's house and made over not only Tyson's bedroom (which he shares with his brother, Karston), but also his parents' bedroom, and the room shared by his sisters,
