

FROM THE MAYOR'S DESK

THE CITY HELD A GRAND OPENING EVENT FOR THE BUSINESS INCUBATOR DEVELOPMENT PROGRAM (BIDP) ON JUNE 8. WE'RE EXCITED TO WELCOME THESE BUSINESSES TO OUR CITY.

The companies that have been accepted in the Eagle Mountain City BIDP at 3726 E. Campus Drive (Direct Communications building) so far are: SymBiotechs USA, a prosthetic components company with a focus on helping amputees stay active in highly physical activities, Hiveit, a new internet shopping site, Impact Elevated, an advertising and marketing company specializing in direct mail, and Hoffman Consulting, a financial consulting firm. Two other companies will participate in the program while leasing space in the Prairie Gate Office Building - Premier Protection Services, a security systems company, and Life Enhancement Center, a holistic healing and therapy service.

Eagle Mountain City's BIDP is an innovative approach to economic development, and is believed to be Utah's first city sponsored business incubator that uses no taxpayer dollars. The program allows participants to lease office space for three years, at no cost during the first year, then with minimally increased rent. Businesses are also given free basic phone and internet service from Direct Communications and shared resources such as a reception area, conference room, copy and fax equipment, audio visual equipment, and a break room. The facility has been divided into private offices, cubicles and light assembly/manufacturing areas.

More information about the incubator program is available at www.eaglemountaincity.com/incubator.

Mayor Jackson speaks at the Business Incubator Development Program grand opening. Derek Miller, Governor Gary Herbert's Chief of Staff and former director of the Governor's Office of Economic Development, was the keynote speaker.

I would to thank all who were involved in one way or another during our city celebration. Our annual Pony Express Days was a great success. We appreciate the hard work and dedication of those who put it together; the sacrifice of those city employees who work so diligently through the ten days and the time leading up to the celebration to make sure that everything is done well, the Seniors and the Youth Council who are actively involved and are an immeasurable resource to us, the Utah County Sheriff's Office for the security and other resources they provide. The participation this year was amazing.

This is just one example of why I have found myself in Eagle Mountain and would not want to be anywhere else. Thank you all. Let's have a great summer.

Mayor Heather Jackson

NEWS BRIEFS

Community Hero Award Recipients Announced

Mayor Heather Jackson announced two recipients of the City's Community Hero Award during Pony Express Days. This year's focus for the award was children with special needs. Nominations were solicited from residents, and the recipients, Kyler Christensen and Philemon "Philie" Anderson, were chosen by the Pony Express Days Committee.

Tracy and Rod Christensen are the parents of two children with autism. Kyler, age 8, and his younger brother Logan, who passed away unexpectedly last year. One of the nomination letters cited the Christensens' "courage, perseverance, and positive attitude." As part of the award, the Christensens received a vacation to Alaska, along with other gifts, sponsored by Frontier Airlines, the Lehi Area Chamber of Commerce, and Arrow Adventures Alaska.

Philie Anderson, age 7, was adopted at the age of five by Becky and Jay Anderson from an orphanage in Ethiopia. He has been diagnosed with Cerebral Palsy, Epilepsy, and Autism. The Andersons have five other children under the age of 11—Kaylee, Clara, Emma, Jayson, and Hannah. As part of the award, a new playground at Smith Ranch Park (next to Pony Express Elementary) that is easily accessible to children with special needs, was dedicated to Philie. A nomination letter cited the Anderson's view of Philie's challenges as "gifts which lift and bless their family."

The Exceptional Kids Playground was sponsored by SelectHealth, Vivint, American Fork Hospital, Big T Recreation, Geneva Rock, CR England, and The Ranches Master HOA.

Areas that are restricted, including behind homes on Lake Mountain, include parts of neighborhoods such as Point Lookout, Castle Rock, Jacobs Well, Skyline Ridge and areas north of North Ranch and Meadow Ranch. Residents may light fireworks in these neighborhoods, just not in brush areas where natural fuels could precipitate a fire starting and threatening homes. State fireworks requirements are posted on the main page of the city website.

Mayor Jackson has visited Eagle Valley Elementary School many times this year and read with many classes. To thank her, Mrs. Gustafson's class presented her with a jar of 7,000 M&M's. Each one represented an act of service that the students performed during this school year. 7,000 good deeds in one second grade class of 29 students in one school year. Together Mayor Jackson, Mrs. Gustafson and her second grade class are examples of the importance of reading and doing good deeds for others. They plan to continue reading and serving even during the summer. Way to go Mayor Jackson, Mrs. Gustafson and second graders.
